

The Sumter Little Theatre

PRESENTS

ROMANOFF AND JULIET

By

PETER USTINOV

Directed By

C. J. MILLING, JR.

April 1-6, 1963

By Special Arrangement with

DRAMATISTS PLAY SERVICE, INC.

SETTING

The action of this comedy takes place in the capital of the smallest country in Europe. To the audience's right is the interior of the American Embassy; to the left, that of the Soviet Embassy. The center of the stage represents a square. This leads to the cathedral and clock tower at the rear of the stage. The fact that the play is a dream is emphasized. Walls and doors do not have meaning in the ordinary sense, particularly in Act III.

ACT I—Scene 1, Scene 2—Dawn to Morning.

—INTERMISSION.

ACT II—Ncon to Afternoon.

—INTERMISSION.

ACT III—Evening to Night.
